Introduction

Provision of Medical Nutrition Therapy (MNT) for children with special health care needs (CSHCN) who have nutrition-related problems requires the expertise of a Registered Dietitian (RD) with specialized training and experience in pediatric nutrition, chronic conditions, developmental disabilities, and special health care needs.

The “Directory of Dietitians Serving Children with Special Health Care Needs” was developed to assist you in locating a qualified RD in your local community. This directory was compiled using responses from a questionnaire sent to dietitians in Wisconsin. The dietitians listed in the directory completed the questionnaire identifying their own areas of nutritional expertise. The areas of nutritional expertise listed by each dietitian have not been verified. It is advised that individuals utilizing this directory to locate a dietitian should do an individual assessment of a dietitian’s training, experience, and ability to meet the needs of the specific child prior to referral to the dietitian.

This directory also includes information related to reimbursement for nutrition services. Eleven programs are listed as potential sources of reimbursement and/or provide nutrition services in the state of Wisconsin.

We hope you will find this updated directory a helpful resource in ensuring children with special health care needs receive appropriate nutrition services.

Glossary

Registered Dietitian (RD)

Registered Dietitians have completed a baccalaureate degree in dietetics or a related area at an accredited U.S. college or university, completed a supervised clinical experience, and passed a national examination administered by the Commission on Dietetic Registration. To retain Registered Dietitian status, continuing education activities are required. Registered Dietitians are qualified to perform nutrition screening, assessment, and treatment.

Certified Dietitian (CD)

A CD is an individual who is certified under Chapter 448, Subchapter IV, Wisconsin Statutes.

Certified Diabetes Educator (CDE)

A CDE is a multidisciplinary health professional who teaches people with diabetes. They must have a minimum of two years experience in diabetes patient and self-management education and pass the Certification Examination for Diabetes Educators.

Nutrition Services

Comprehensive nutrition services includes screening, nutrition risk identification, referral to a Registered Dietitian, Medical Nutrition Therapy (MNT) provided by a Registered Dietitian, meal modifications, and provision of special infant formulas, enteral nutrition supplements, vitamin/mineral supplements, tube-feeding supplies and special feeding equipment.

Medical Nutrition Therapy (MNT)

MNT is a nutrition service provided by a Registered Dietitian. MNT includes a comprehensive assessment of the child's nutritional status including analysis of medical and diet history, laboratory values, anthropometric measurements, and feeding skills. Based on the assessment, the Registered Dietitian develops an individualized nutrition treatment plan, provides nutrition counseling, nutrition care coordination, monitoring, and reassessment.

MNT can be delivered in a variety of settings including hospitals, specialty clinics, group homes, schools, day care centers, homes, and most any setting in the child's community.

Infant formula

Food which is intended for special dietary use solely as a food for infants by reason of its simulation of human milk or its suitability as a complete or partial substitute for human milk.

Special infant formula

Infant formula that is represented and labeled for use by infants who have inborn errors of metabolism, low birthweight, or who otherwise have unusual medical or dietary problems.

Enteral nutrition products

Products formulated for children over one year of age and adults to be consumed or administered enterally under the supervision of a physician. Products are intended for the specific dietary management of a disease or condition for which distinctive nutritional requirements are established by medical evaluation.

Vitamin/Mineral supplements

A single-nutrient supplement or a multi-vitamin and mineral supplement used to treat or prevent nutrient deficiency in a variety of specific clinical situations related to increased nutrient requirements, increased nutrient excretion; or reduced nutrient consumption, absorption, or utilization.

Tube-feeding supplies

Equipment needed to administer liquid nutrition via intravenous or tube feedings.

Special feeding equipment

Adaptive equipment so individuals with a disability can eat independently and adaptive equipment designed to be utilized by the individual who feeds a dependent feeder.

- Special infant formula: Covered
EnfaCare, SimilacNeoSure, Similac PM 60/40, Nutramigen, Alimentum, Pregestimil, Portagen, EleCare, Enfamil AR, Neocate

Reimbursement for Nutrition Services

A challenge to implementing nutrition services for children with special health care needs is finding adequate methods of reimbursement. Parents, health care providers, and Registered Dietitians are often unaware of potential sources of reimbursement and nutrition services available from various federal, state, local, and private programs

The purpose of this section is to provide information about reimbursement potential for nutrition services and programs providing nutrition services in the state of Wisconsin.

Programs that are potential sources of reimbursement and/or provide nutrition services include the following:

- Birth to 3 Program
- Food Share Program
- Head Start and Early Head Start
- Indian Health Services
- Medicaid Program
- Newborn Screening Program
- Private Insurance Companies, HMO, PPO, MCO
- School Nutrition Program
- TRICARE
- Women, Infant & Children Program

Nutrition Services in the FoodShare Program

Program Description: The purpose of the FoodShare Program is to end hunger and improve nutrition and health. The FoodShare Program was formerly the Food Stamp Program. It helps low-income households buy the food they need for a nutritionally adequate diet. In Wisconsin, the program is overseen by the State Department of Health and Family Services and implemented by local county and tribal social/human services offices in accordance with Federal regulations. FoodShare benefits are now issued using an Electronic Benefit Transfer System (EBT). Each household receives a plastic “debit” card. In Wisconsin, it is called a Quest Card.

Eligibility: The amount of benefits an eligible household receives depends on the number of people in the household and household income (with deductions allowed for certain expenses, i.e. housing, medical, etc.). Assets are not counted if someone in the household receives benefits or services funded by Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), including W-2 and Child Care, or if all person in the household receive SSI. Beginning July 1, 2001, vehicles will no longer be counted as assets in Wisconsin.
